FROM the CHAIR

Some Fall Events and a Final Word of Appreciation

I hope everyone has had a wonderful summer full of outdoor adventures of all kinds. Autumn brings continued opportunities to enjoy our region and beyond. Our leaders have been busy planning many outings for the fall. Check the listings at amcberkshire.org/schedule and in AMC Outdoors—and join in!

Coming up are two major events for the Berkshire Chapter.

On Appalachian Trail Day join Jim Pelletier, AT Committee Chair, and the many active members of the AT Committee on October 9 for a day of hikes along the length of the AT in Massachusetts. See page 5 for details.

On Saturday, November 6, our Chapter’s annual meeting will take place at the American Legion Hall in Hadley. The highlight of the meeting will be the election of your new Berkshire Chapter Chair, Dave Sauriol. Dave brings a great deal of experience and enthusiasm to the role and I hope many of our Berkshire Chapter members will come out to meet him and share ideas for the future of the Chapter. For more information on our annual meeting dinner and guest speaker, see page 3.

This is my last “From the Chair,” and I would like to thank all of the wonderful volunteers, Executive Committee members, and other Chapter enthusiasts. The hikers in the group really appreciated the information readily shared by the birders, having scratched our heads for many years wondering, “What’s making that interesting bird-song?” We were similarly intrigued to learn about all the conservation and trail maintenance work the N.E. Mountain Bikers are involved with.

Besides the interesting fellow visitors, we were treated to local residents’ hospitality and intimate knowledge of the region. Our hosts included Bob and Jean Day, who operate a bed and breakfast in Petersham called Winterwood; Annette Ermini, Director, North Quabbin Woods; Dave Small, President of the Athol Bird and Nature Club and Assistant Regional Director of the Dept. of Recreation and Conservation, Quabbin; and Bob Curley, local wilderness guide, photographer, and Quabbin-Metacomet Trail advocate (a 127-mile proposed loop trail around the Quabbin...WOW!!!).

Our two-day visit began with check-in at the historic Winterwood Mansion in Petersham,

North Quabbin Woods and Our New Vice Chair by David Sauriol

Hi there, folks! My name is Dave Sauriol (a/k/a Hikin’ Dave), and I’m the new Vice Chair for the Berkshire Chapter. I’m really excited about working with this top-notch local organization dedicated to the protection, enjoyment, and wise use of the mountains, rivers, and trails of the Appalachian region. First, let me share with you a little about myself. I am a chemical engineer by trade, a husband and father of six by design, and an avid adventurer by desire. In our town of Monson, I am a local Boy Scout adult leader for Troop 168 and proud father of two BSA Eagle Scouts. During the last 12 years, I have led numerous Boy Scout outings including hikes, bike rides, and paddles in the scenic Berkshires, White Mountains, and Delaware River. My favorite book: AMC White Mountain Guide. Frankly speaking, I don’t need much of an excuse to get outdoors and enjoy the wonders of nature.

Let me tell you about my most recent adventure. The North Quabbin Woods organization, located in Orange, MA, recently sponsored a nature tour of the region including scenic vistas, paddling and hiking opportunities, and visits to several sites of historical and architectural interest. My fellow visitors to the region included members of the Brookline Bird Club, New England Mountain Bike Association, and Boston AMC bicycling committee. It was a great opportunity to meet some fellow outdoors enthusiasts. The hikers in the group really appreciated the information readily shared by the birders, having scratched our heads for many years wondering, “What’s making that interesting bird-song?” We were similarly intrigued to learn about all the conservation and trail maintenance work the N.E. Mountain Bikers are involved with.

A Place in the Woods

I sit here in the woods with nature’s perfections.....
It's been awhile since human touch has seeded these forest trees
A yellow birch hangs onto a rock with its octopus roots
Tall pines with broken branches lie disarrayed on the rotting leaf covered forest floor
Tumbled stone walls that no longer go anywhere or mark anything..... but continue to grow mosses and to house insects within their crevices
So grand without the clouds of human consumption
I sit here in the woods to the soothing calm melody of a waterfall

A Positive, Community-Building Response in this Time of Change

Transition Towns is a vibrant, global grassroots movement bringing people together to build community resilience. Long-term energy cost increases and climate change, together with economic instability, pose a “Triple Challenge” that requires bigger, more creative solutions. With change unfolding quickly, local action has become essential.

Tina Clarke will describe the Transition Movement, why it has been successful in the U.K. and is growing globally, and how communities in the U.S. are using it to increase community well-being. She’ll explain how the Transition process catalyzes positive action and community-building as it addresses the fundamental challenges of our time. Come check out how people around the world are transitioning their communities as a part of this rapidly growing international movement.

Tina Clarke, a U.S. Transition Trainer, shares details of her firsthand study of the Transition Movement, and her experience training and supporting Transition Initiatives, with leaders in both Totnes, England and the U.S.

Tina has been a campaign director, advocate, trainer, consultant, and executive director of nonprofit programs for 25 years. She has worked in cooperation with over 400 organizations, recently working with the Sustainability Institute and 350.org. In Washington, DC she led a nationwide citizens training program sponsored by 16 national religious bodies, and directed Greenpeace USA’s citizen action network. She lives in a below-zero energy “power house” she helped design. The Platinum LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) house won two major awards, and generates 2.5 times more energy than needed.

ALL ARE WELCOME:

- Communicate and coordinate with other chapters’ registrars when we participate in joint ventures.

Our new Registrar should be friendly, enthusiastic, and welcoming. She/he must have a positive attitude, be timely in responding to phone and email inquiries, and be wicked detail-oriented. Proficiency in email, Word and Excel preferred.

If you’d like to help, please call Christine Fogarty at 978-857-7078 (before 9 PM). And thanks for helping us continue our excellent Leader Trainings in 2010 and beyond!

AMC Hike Ratings

Hikes are rated according to their distance, pace, and ruggedness. A typical rating might be “B3C.”

The first letter indicates the hike’s distance:
- AA = over 13 miles
- A = 9 - 13 miles
- B = 5 - 8 miles
- C = under 5 miles

The number in the middle indicates the pace the leader expects to set (on average terrain):
- 1 = very fast (2.5 mph or faster)
- 2 = fast (2 - 2.5 mph)
- 3 = moderate (1.5 - 2 mph)
- 4 = leisurely (less than 1.5 mph)

The final letter indicates the kind of terrain:
- A = very strenuous
- B = strenuous
- C = average
- D = easy

If there are two letters at the end (for example, “B3BC”), it indicates the terrain is somewhere between the levels indicated by either of the letters alone. As always, if you have any questions about what the hike will be like, call the trip leader or hike contact person.

MA. Bob Day was a gracious host of this well-maintained and beautifully decorated vacation and group function facility. His wife, Jean, is a fantastic chef who left her guests well fed on a five-course, gourmet meal. Following check-in, the group traveled to beautiful Tully Lake where we paddled our way downriver and were treated to a Q&A by Dick O’Brien, Regional Director for The Trustees of Reservations. Dick told us about his organization, the history of the Trustees’ properties in the region, and the great partnership that exists between the Trustees, DCR, local communities, and a variety of other like-minded conservation and recreation organizations nearby. Following our paddle expedition, we visited Doanes Falls, a blue heron rookery. Later, after we enjoyed a scrumptious dinner, Dave Small treated us to some spectacular pictures of the area’s flora and fauna.

Day two brought us to several scenic and historic locations in Petersham, New Salem, and other locales. We hiked to Soapstone Mountain, a summit overlooking the majestic Quabbin Reservoir. The view was so spectacular I added the location to my favorite places on my Blackberry! While at the top, we enjoyed our box lunches from the Petersham Country Store, the oldest continuously operated country store in the United States. Our journey also included a visit to Gate 31, a designated Quabbin fishing area and bald eagle nesting site. Here, visitors can sightsee on the waters of the Quabbin by renting a motorboat for only $40 per day. Other highlights of the day were tours of the historic Petersham and New Salem town commons—very peaceful, preserved, and picturesque.

It was clear everyone in our group thoroughly enjoyed the region and I know I’ll be back soon. I hope you’ll join me, as the North Quabbin Woods hold a truly unique, friendly, and impressive area and people. Until next time...get outdoors!
GET INVOLVED WITH OUR CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

by Bill Scaife, Conservation Committee Chair

The Berkshire Chapter’s Conservation Committee is following advice attributed to the great American philosopher Yogi Berra: “When you come to a fork in the road, take it.” We are not literally at a “fork in the road” in the sense of having to make a critical decision. Rather, we are in the fortunate position of having many different paths spread out before us, each of which is practical, useful, and a way to further the AMC’s mission of acting as good stewards of our environment.

By many paths, I mean that among our many Chapter members we have numerous interests, skills and ideas for how we may travel in accord with this part of the AMC’s mission: “We believe these [natural] resources have intrinsic worth and also provide recreational opportunities, spiritual renewal, and ecological and economic health for the region. Because successful conservation depends on active engagement with the outdoors, we encourage people to experience, learn about, and appreciate the natural world.”

This sketch of the Conservation Committee’s role in the life of the Berkshire Chapter is meant to whet your appetite to become a catalyst, a coordinator, a disseminator of ideas, a liaison—a human blog, if you will—to help our Chapter participate even more in an “active engagement with the outdoors.” The Chapter’s Conservation Committee is, at the moment, a committee of one. I’m a humble man, and I don’t want to keep all the fun and sense of accomplishment to myself.

I encourage you to join with me in what I envision as a “not just another-meeting” committee. I didn’t insert the term “human blog” by accident. By using the computer for virtual meetings, we can dispense with many in-person sessions. We may well get more done and have greater participation with emails or a blog.

SNORKELING RIVER TRAILS

by Paxton Berardy

It was a hot summer, hotter than most, and when it got too hot to hike the trails, I snorkeled them.

I often hop into a section of river that is relatively deep and maybe a mile or two in length. The underwater scenery is fantastic. Fish swirl about with you as they swim up and down stream, boulders zip by, and rocky ledges jut out and beckon you to explore them.

The equipment needed for river snorkeling is pretty basic: a face mask and snorkel, a bathing suit, and sturdy water-oriented foot wear. A light wetsuit can also be helpful to provide flotation, scuff protection, and warmth. Ironically, just like with hiking you need good footwear—essential for safety. Various sharp objects can be found in local rivers such as pieces of glass, shell, steel, and other debris. Water shoes are good for walking around shallow sections of the river or portaging rapids. Shoes also make walking back more comfortable since you are not going to be walking around shallow sections of the river or portaging rapids. Shoes also make walking back more comfortable since you are not going to be able to swim back against the river’s current. Just as in kayaking, an easy-to-spot takeout should be scouted out ahead of time.

The Pioneer Valley luckily has plenty of swimming trails for snorkeling. Probably the best option is the Westfield River. From Huntington, all the way to downtown Westfield, the river has a swimming hole at nearly every bend and connecting these holes is half the fun. I personally like to put in below the dam in downtown Russell and snorkel all the way down to the fishing area across from the old Whippernon Golf Course off of Rte. 20. Other great places to snorkel in the Pioneer Valley include the Deerfield River at Stillwater Bridge, the Connecticut River in Hatfield, and just over the border in Enfield, CT, the Thompsonville boat launch, where some old bridge abutments and a washed-out dam make for some really interesting diving.

Like any sport, river snorkeling has some inherent dangers. If you are in an area with motorboat traffic you should always tow a dive flag on a float to alert boaters of your presence. Additional dangers to watch out for include river levels, which can rise and fall dramatically from dam releases and storms; powerful currents and holes that can be dangerous when they catch you off guard; and strainers (such as debris, like fallen trees in the water, that you can be swept into and drown in). This is not a beginner’s endeavor. People who are not solid swimmers or snorkelers and have little river knowledge should not attempt it until they first start with lakes or ponds. But if you think you can handle it, the joys of snorkeling river trails are hard to beat!

Members who have helped to make my experience as Chapter Chair so memorable. It has been an honor to serve in this role. I have had the opportunity to meet many talented, committed people in the Chapter and club-wide who are dedicated to the mission of the club and give so much of themselves to keep it vibrant and moving forward. Consider how you might join in and support the future of the Chapter, and have a wonderful time in the process!

Very best,
Deborah Levine
Berkshire Chapter Chair, 2009–2010

IN MEMORIAM

JUNE HOERLE — A member of the Berkshire Chapter since 1982, passed away on July 17 at age 84. She had been fighting cancer for several years. June was a Tuesday hiker and dear friend to many. She was on the very first Tuesday hike and continued with the group until the end. Those who knew her will remember her as a spirited, friendly, talented woman who extended herself to all.
